The Governor has reappointed the following Notaries Public: E. C. McClellan, Elko; Frank X. Murphy, White Pine. The following commissions have been issued: Geo. H. Taylor, Commissioner of Deeds, to reside in New York City; John Neidy, Notary Public, Aurora, Esmeralda county.

The butchers of this city insist that Douglas county meat peddlers should be made to pay a license in this city if they sell meat here. All should be made to pay alike. The present system of licensing is a discrimination in favor of the outside butcher, who pays no taxes and does not even live here.

THE CITY ELECTION.—The defeat of the regular ticket at the city election was a great surprise to everybody. It has been a long time since any interest whatever was taken in a city election in Carson, and only about once in ten years is there any contest. At periodical intervals in Ormsby county there comes a general political earthquake, and the wiseacres insist that the result of Monday was only a small preliminary shock preceding the coming upheaval. Just exactly what caused the result no one seems able to explain, and the matter will always be one of the political mysteries.

AN INJUSTICE TO SNIPPY—Snippy the man who is blamed so much for the Washoe Lake tragedy was in town yesterday. He says when he saw the accident he went up to Kelly's cabin where the men lived, and informed him what was going on. He had no boat of his own but Kelly could have got a boat a few hundred yards away. He says Kelly said he was too busy and refused to do anything. He thinks that the newspapers have placed the blame on the wrong man.

JUVENILE MASQUERADE.—Miss Mary Randall, who has been quite successful as a dancing teacher, will give a juvenile masquerade at Opera House on Friday evening, May 23rd. The music will be furnished by Zimmer & Meder's orchestra. Tickets admitting one, 50 cents; spectators 50 cents; reserved seats on the stage 50 cents extra. All children under 18 admitted to the floor. td*

FREE COINAGE.

Ex-Congressman Fitch on the Windom Bill.

EDITOR Gazette: Secretary Windom both misapprehends and misstates the position of the friends of free coinage when he assumes that they are instigated mainly by a desire to "corner" silver and advance its price. The advocates of bi-metalism are inspired by other and larger purposes than the single one of adding to the gains of the silver producers. They seek to lift the farmers out of the pit of poverty into which the unimpaired rapacity of the monometal list plunged them into in 1873; they seek to advance the wages of the laborer by increasing the price of every product of labor; they seek to lessen the burden of individual and corporate debt by making more plentiful and more accessible the only medium by which debt can be discharged; they seek to awaken capital from its unprofitable siesta upon the couch of bonded indebtedness, to achieve greater usefulness and greater gain by investment in workshop and factory and orchard and field; they seek to inspire and content the toilers of a world by giving them greater equality of distribution as well as greater increase of the wealth that labor creates.

None of these larger results of silver remonetization can be accomplished by merely increasing the price of silver as a commodity even if such increase of price should extend to $1 29 per ounce. Silver should have no price at all, but should be—equally with gold—the price of all things else. Only the restoration of free coinage can undo the wrong done by the destruction of free coinage. All measures which place any limit on the amount to be coined, or upon the boundaries within which silver offered for coinage must have been produced, or upon the legal tender quality of silver coin; all measures which provide for the issuance or redemption of silver certificates upon any different terms than those provided for the issuance or redemption of gold certificates; all compromising or tampering with the great question of the day will prove, in my opinion, futile of good result. Neither fealty to caucus nor allegiance to party should be permitted to stand in the way of free coinage, and it will be far better, in my opinion, to have no legislation at all from the present Congress, than to accept any measure which perpetuates in any modified form the iniquity of 1873 by which silver was degraded from a royal metal into a commodity.

THOMAS FITCH.

HALLEN AND HART.—There was a good audience last evening to see Hallen and Hart. There is plenty of fun and good music in "Later On," as well as shapely figures and pretty faces. The jokes introduced were funny, the songs tuneful and the dancing graceful. During the three acts there was not a moment that the eye and ear were not attracted by action, always sprightly. Hallen resembles Harry Dixey in appearance, and his methods are like those of Evans of "Parlor Match" fame, a combination that makes him a welcome addition to the wit of comedians. Mr. Hart displays great versatility, sings and dances and plays piano.

SAID PASHA.—Said Pasha was again presented to a delighted audience at Ming's last evening. The appearance of John E. McWade as Hassan Bey brought forth tumults of applause. He is a fine actor and has a magnificent voice. The bright and catchy music, the rich costumes and the appropriate scenic effects added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. All the singers were in good voice and the performance ran smoothly. Said Pasha will be sung again this evening. It is the brightest and prettiest opera of the season and should not be missed.—Helena Globe.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winlow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.
